

Snack exchange, rules and details

A classic European convention event, meant to celebrate the cultural diversity of our world. Bring along food and drinks specialities from your homeplace to share with the other attendees. Watch as they react to your local delicacies ! The purpose of this event is for attendees to discover food and drink specialities from your country, and/or your region. Be original, be weird even ! Not bringing anything ? No problem ! Come around and have a taste.

What can I bring along ?

For health and safety reasons, please only bring solid, dry food that is pre-packaged and has a long shelf life (and is not expired). For example, packaged chocolate, cookies, candies are all fine, but dips, jars of pickled onions/fish, and homemade cake will not be accepted. The only exceptions to this rule are cheese and dry sausages ( it's cultural !), though they still have to be wrapped. Please do not bring any overly smelly foods, such as durian.

Non-alcoholic beverages are all accepted. As for alcoholic drinks, strong alcohols like vodka, rum, plant liquor, whiskey or absinthe will not be accepted. Please refrain from serving too much as this event is for tasting only ! All drinks must be shop-bought, still factory-sealed, and within the best-before date. This means that homemade drinks such as craft beer or homemade lemonade will not be allowed.

Lastly, please make sure any allergen information is clearly visible (or easy for you to explain).

PS: think about our vegan friends !

How will this work ?

You'll be asked to display everything on your table. Write the name of the country and/or region you're representing on a paper display, take a chair, and you're ready to wait for other attendees to come and taste what you brought ! If you want to taste food yourself, make sure your table isn't left alone so you can still reply to questions.

Plastic cups, plates, pikes, forks and paper towels will be available to everyone.
